

The sanctuary program will be running directly in the console window, with many operations to choose from.

The whole program is on loop until you enter the command to exit. Below is a menu overview of the whole program.

Guide: operating by choosing among the numbered options then type it in the console and press Enter to execute your choice.

